BONNEVILLE, SALT FLATS, Utah, Sept. 3.—Sir Malcolm Campbell, noted British auto racer, today streaked his Blue Thunderbolt across Bonneville's glaring white course to a new world's automobile speed record of 299.875 miles per hour.

Sir Malcolm set the new world's record in face of misfortune in the form of a tire blowout.

On the death-defying run, south to north, he hit the meast mile at the terrific speed of 304 miles per hour, only to have left front tire blow out betw the 12th and 13th miles posts on 13 mile straightaway course.

On the return trip his speed to 295.566 miles per hour.

Campbell's scorching speed is only five-thousandths of a second less than his goal of 300 miles per hour, but faster by far than the record of 276.816 miles per hour established by the Briton at Daytona Beach, Florida last March 7.

Campbell will not try for the miles again today, but he was—

Veterans Of 332nd Conclude Reunion

Closing their fourteenth annual convention on Sunday at noon in the Castleton Hotel, the veterans of the 332nd Infantry regiment elected officers for the coming year, selected their 1936 convention site and spent the balance of the day in renewing old acquaintances.

Cleveland, O., was named as the 1936 convention city. Following the regimental custom the officers were named from the city where the convention is to be held. C. H. Williams was elected president, W. T. Crawford vice president, and Harry Knowlton as secretary-treasurer. The matter of electing a permanent secretary was laid over until next year. A committee will be named to set new dates for the annual convention.

Britain-France Split On Plan For League Session

Procedure To Be Followed At Tomorrow's Session Not Agreed Upon

ENGLAND LIKELY TO FAVOR SANCTIONS

Last Desperate Effort For Peace In Ethiopian Tangle Up To League

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

GENEVA, Sept. 3.—Great Britain and France split today on the procedure to be followed when the League of Nations Council meets tomorrow in a last desperate effort to find a path out of the Italo-Ethiopian tangle.

Premier Pierre Laval of France was understood to have informed Captain Anthony Eden of Britain his government could not join with England in submitting a report on the recent tri-partite Ethiopian negotiations in Paris, which failed when Italy refused to accept a compromise.

Widely Divergent Attitudes Laval's decision confirmed prevalent belief in France and Britain have widely divergent attitudes as to how the problem should be met and indicated strongly England would demand full league action in the crisis even to the extent of imposing sanctions if necessary.

It has long been known France opposes this course of action for fear of hopelessly alienating Italy and endangering the general European situation.

Captain Eden is leaving for Aix-Les-Bains this afternoon for a last conference with Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin before the league meets.

Absolves Both Nations

London, Sept. 3.—The League of Nations Italo-Abyssinian conciliation commission today absolved both Italy and Abyssinia in the Walwal troops clash, according to a Reuters dispatch from Paris.

The commission, Reuters said, decided that no responsibility, either moral or pecuniary, was attached to either disputant in the Walwal clash "or subsequent events."

The Walwal clash was the border incident which was the immediate cause of the recent rapid preparations for an Italo-Abyssinian war.

The league's commission, meeting primarily to consider the incident, concluded its report in Paris today and prepared to take it to Geneva personally in great secrecy. The report was unanimously signed by the committee's five members, which include two Italians, two Abyssinian representatives, and a neutral member, Nicholas Politis, of Greece.

The report will be handed to the league secretariat tomorrow.

Gen. Douglass MacArthur Is Guest Of President At Luncheon Today

PRESIDENT ACTS ON CONGRESS BILLS

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 3.—Selection of a new chief of staff for the army was projected into President Roosevelt's vacation schedule today. General Douglas MacArthur, retiring active head of the military establishment, was listed as a luncheon guest at Hyde Park.

Speculation for some months past has had it that the top army job would go either to Major General George S. Simonds, present deputy chief of staff, or Major General Malin Craig, who now heads the army war college in Washington.

Both men were moved to Washington from command of corps areas when General MacArthur's tour of duty expired. The president continued MacArthur as chief of staff, however, until congress had passed on all legislation pertaining to the war department—our youngest general being considered particularly well versed in the army's needs.

Informed circles say it is a 50-50 choice between Simonds and Craig, but some of the inner betting, (Continued On Page Two)

Labor marked its own holiday Monday September 2, when a celebration sponsored by the Trades and Labor Assembly was held in Cascade Park. Thousands joined in the celebration which started shortly after noon and continued through the evening hours.

The big event of the day was the mass meeting at the bandstand in the afternoon. Three speakers were heard by a crowd that appreciated the messages and each of the addresses was distinctly a Labor Day document. Local speakers included Mayor Charles B. Mayne and Judge James A. Recognition Of Russia Proves To Be Failure

Trade Illusion Held Out Prior To Recognition Complete Fade-out

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—A survey of America's official relations with Soviet Russia today disclosed American recognition of the Moscow regime has proved a complete failure insofar as expectations are concerned.

Every important benefit which the administration hoped would accrue from recognition of the Soviet regime has failed to materialize.

Only Delusion

The hoped-for vast expansion of trade, settlement of debts and non-propaganda activities—all have proved an utter delusion.

In fact, relations between the two nations actually are worse than before recognition was accorded in 1933.

Prior to American recognition, the unofficial relations between the two countries were marked by extreme cordiality. As a result of Moscow's outright disavowal of its solemn non-propaganda pledges; its deliberate misinterpretation of American credit promises; and the officially described "preposterous" demands for a debt settlement, official relations have become openly strained and on the verge of a rupture.

Report Broker Has Option On Ethiopia Concession

(International News Service)

LONDON, Sept. 3.—The Ethiopian legation today officially confirmed that Leo Chertok, an American broker, was given a 90-day option to take up a 50-year concession for exploitation of Ethiopian mineral rights, contingent upon raising a $1,000,000 loan.

International News Service was informed at the legation that Ethiopian Minister Martin addressed the following letter to Chertok on July 19:

"Following our conversation today, I confirm herewith the arrangement with you as follows: 'That for a period of 90 days from today's date you have the sole concession to raise the sum of not less than $1,000,000 as a loan for my country.'"

"As a security for this loan we are prepared to give you a concession for 50 years on the gold, platinum, oil and other mineral rights in territories to be defined, and which are under our absolute control."

Previously the legation officially denied such an option had been given to Chertok.

Asked how it reconciled the Martin letter with this previous official denial, the legation said the first denial was issued because it was understood Chertok claimed the concession had been signed, whereas the concession was contingent upon Chertok raising a loan.

The legation official declared no money has yet been paid to Ethiopia by Chertok.

MORGAN LINER DIXIE POUNDING ON REEF 50 MILES FROM MIAMI

Rescue Steamers In Vicinity Seek Desperately To Reach Vessel

OIL TANKER FIRST TO REACH SCENE

Southern Hurricane Strikes Florida—Reports Of Damage Meagre

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 3.—With the Morgan Liner Dixie pounding to pieces beneath their feet, 400 persons huddled on rain-swept decks today and watched prayerfully as rescue steamers tried desperately to find their way through the treacherous shoals off Crayfish reef, 50 miles south of here.

Battered and smashed by the worst storm that had struck this section since 1928, the Dixie crashed into the reef early today while en route from New Orleans to New York.

The Reaper, a Standard Oil tanker, was the first vessel to reach the vicinity of the stricken liner, but driving seas and heavy winds made it impossible for the Reaper to reach its side immediately. At 10:30 a. m. (EST) the Reaper was standing by about two miles away, awaiting the first favorable moment to speed to the side of the stranded ship.

Vessels Standing By

Six other vessels were reported in the vicinity and standing by, but the Reaper was the smallest vessel of the group and it was believed it had a better chance than the others to find its way through the treacherous shoals surrounding the crippled vessel.

Meanwhile, the exact condition of the Dixie remained unknown, as rescue vessels had requested it to remain silent to give them freer use of the radio channels in directing the attempted rescue.

Also, it was known that the Dixie's radio was in bad condition, and rescuers were anxious that it conserve its power for later emergencies.

Has 400 Aboard

The Dixie, flagship of the Morgan line and its newest craft, had 250 passengers and a crew of 140 when it sailed out of New Orleans Saturday night enroute to New York. It is a vessel of 4,917 tons.

Weather Conditions In Central Pennsylvania Cut Traffic Some

SKIDDING CAUSES SOME FATALITIES

(International News Service)

Labor Day automobile traffic exacted a toll of 14 lives in Pennsylvania, a survey by International News Service revealed today.

Bad weather conditions, which retarded the motorists' urge for the highways, aided in reducing the toll on Labor Day yesterday far below anticipated proportions.

Ten persons were killed in highways and streets on Saturday and Sunday and four more met death on Labor Day.

Scores were hurt in Pittsburgh on Labor Day but no fatalities were immediately reported.

A steady, drizzling rain and cold weather kept hundreds of central Pennsylvanians off the highways over Labor Day but automobile accidents claimed three lives and brought injuries to more than a score of others.

Teacher Is Killed
Miss Frances Moore, Johnstown high school teacher and one of Pennsylvania's first women air pilots, was killed when her automobile skidded and upset near Huntingdon. The victim's mother, Mrs. George Moore, and Mrs. Harry Alter, were both injured.

Another skidding accident at Williamsport resulted in the death of H. B. Albany, of Oaks, Montgomery county. His wife and daughter were injured seriously.

Koskie Kaskel, 28, Wilkes-Barre township, Luzerne county, died in General Hospital early today a short time after being admitted. He was hurt in an automobile accident, police were informed.

Despite bad driving conditions, made hazardous by rain and slippery paving, only one person was killed in heavy Labor Day traffic in the Philadelphia metropolitan district.

seemed to favor Craig as big. President Roosevelt was expected to get the benefit of MacArthur's advice at lunch today.

MacArthur Going To Philippines
MacArthur is due to leave for the Philippines, on September 22. At the request of the New Island government he is being loaned as a military adviser. Because he will depart before Mr. Roosevelt will be back in Washington, he was invited here for a final conference. It was not anticipated the new chief of staff would be announced before the president returns to the capital. Meanwhile, the president had disposed of most of the legislation still hanging fire from the recently adjourned congress. He signed the last one that met his approval on Labor Day and issued statements explaining why he pocket-vetted seven others, all minor relief bills. A few more were expected in today's mail pouch from Washington, but they too will be rejected with explanatory statements.

INSPECTS ESTATE

In addition to these matters of state, Mr. Roosevelt found the time to concentrate on the practical aspects of maintaining a 1,000 acre estate. He inspected a new portion of the 15 miles of dirt road that weaves through his Hudson River property and learned with satisfaction that it was costing him only $500 a mile to build—a figure, he observed to one of his house guests that should turn road engineers green with envy.

Also, the president was making plans to go into the Christmas tree business. The new road leads to an abandoned field which he intends to plant with spruce. He can purchase the seedlings from the state of New York for $3 a thousand. It takes six or seven years for these seedlings to acquire the average growth required for Christmas trees. The present value of these trees—standing—is about $1 a dozen.

fare served on china. Reminiscences were in order until parade time and at seven fifteen the parade moved out from the Castleton.

Two police cruiser cars preceded the parade, then the American Legion band, President Edward D. Pritchard headed the line as grand marshal and after him the veterans of the 332nd with their red hats marked with the Lion of St. Marks. The line moved out over Falls to Mill, to North, to East to Washington and from there to the Troop F Armory on West Washington St.

Mayor Mayne Speaks

At the Armory Mayor Charles B. Mayne extended an official welcome to the men and said New Castle wanted them to have a good time while they were here. He congratulated them upon the manner in which they had kept their organization together since the war and urged them to use their organized strength for good in their various communities.

A program of entertainment was then presented, Frank C. Summers having charge of this feature of the reunion. An orchestra, The Musical Clowns, singing and other forms of entertainment were enjoyed followed by a smoker at which refreshments were served. A number of members of the regiment were introduced by Master of Ceremonies Summers.

Sunday Meeting

Sunday morning the final session of the convention was held in the Castleton Hotel. President Edward D. Pritchard presided and introduced Fred L. Rentz, president of The News Company, as the speaker of the day.

"I have always felt a deep sense of gratitude to men who have served with the colors," said Mr. Rentz. "As a small boy in school I can recall the veterans of the Civil War coming around on Memorial Day and telling us of the great struggle between the states. During the World War I was called upon to serve as a civilian captain in New Castle, aiding the various war drives and it was a pleasure for me to be of service. You men, however served where the service meant possible death, wounds or sickness."

"Following the Civil War the governmental position of this nation was filled with veterans. The reason was that the veterans organized themselves into one strong group, the Grand Army of the Republic. There were various regimental organizations of course, but the veterans were wise enough to have one strong organization for the purpose of aiding the veterans."

The men of the World War will find themselves in a much stronger position if they will have one strong central organization for the purpose of presenting their demands. The bonus should be paid, many other questions of national importance are to be settled, and the veterans can get them settled to their advantage if they will present an united front."

Major McGraw Speaks

Major T. J. McGraw, major of the city of Taunton, Mass., was called upon for a few remarks and greeted his comrades. He was a medical major during the war and every year comes west to the reunion city for the annual get-together.

During the meeting a report of a special committee was to the effect that the United States government had now recognized the Lion of St. Marks as the official emblem for the 332nd infantry regiment. Henceforth all regiments bearing the number 332, will have that insignia. This is the only regiment in the United States Army to be so honored.

The reunion was a successful one and the local officers in charge were well pleased with it. Next year's convention in Cleveland is already being looked to with pleasure.

introduced the speakers. After a short introductory address, Mr. Freeborn introduced Mayor Charles B. Mayne who extended the official welcome of the city. He bespoke his approval of the rights of labor to organize and urged the men present towards new efforts in getting all workers organized.

Judge James A. Chambers was introduced and spoke briefly. The judge is a former member of the stone mason's union and expressed his pride at that membership. As a young man before he entered the practice of law Judge Chambers worked as a stone mason with his father and was active in the ranks of his craft union. He congratulated the men present for their union spirit and expressed the hope that the union movement would continue to flourish.

Pessomato's Address

J. V. Pessomato was the principal speaker of the day. His address was along the lines of recent legislation designed to aid union labor. He reminded the men and women present that since the first Labor Day, held in 1882, the ranks of organized labor had grown from 150,000 to 7,000,000 in 1935. He recalled the pioneer days of the union battles and said that it had been a continual fight to increase the standards of the American workmen, to guarantee him against the preying of unfair capital, and said that today labor was protected with a splendid piece of legislation, the Wagner-Connelly bill.

He reminded the crowd that under this act unfair labor practices are prohibited, interference with or coercion of employees in the exercise of their rights was prohibited, and that discrimination against a union workman was prohibited. Mr. Pessomato urged the entire abolition of the so-called "company union" and the continued strengthening of the craft union lines.

"We must organize," said Mr. Pessomato. "All the legislation drawn for the benefit of working men has come through the united efforts of organized labor. Old age pensions, compensation legislation, social security acts, all of them have come from the ranks of organized labor. We must protect the legislation we have and go still further."

Higher wages for workers were urged by Pessomato. "Higher wages mean larger purchasing power," said he. "Give the working man decent wages and prosperity will have returned." His address was followed by vigorous applause from the huge crowd around the band stand.

Sports Program

During the afternoon a sports program was run off in the park and the oldest union men in the city identified. David Hartland of 430 East Long avenue was found to be the oldest union man present. He is a life member of the B. M. P. I. A. and has been a union man since early in 1875.

RECOGNITION OF RUSSIA PROVES TO BE FAILURE

that has marked the results of American recognition.

The principal argument for recognition was the great hopes held for the development of trade between the two countries. Proponents of recognition predicted an immediate expansion of trade, running into hundreds of millions of dollars annually, would follow establishment of diplomatic relations.

Former Senator Smith W. Brookhart (R) of Iowa, investigating Russian trade possibilities for the government, predicted half a billion dollars worth of purchasing orders awaited American foreign trade in the Soviet Union once recognition was accorded. A $350,000,000 annual American export trade with the Soviet Union was predicted in estimates to the state department by private economic experts.

Vision Dwindles

Instead of $350,000,000, all the Yankee traders were able to get out of Moscow was a promise to purchase $30,000,000 worth of American goods a year. In return, this government had to promise Soviet Russia all the benefits which the United States gives any other nation, except Cuba, in trade agreements. This $30,000,000 represented only $15,000,000 more than the value of American exports to Soviet Russia the year before recognition was granted.

Of even greater disappointment and resentment to the state department was Moscow's outright trickery over the debt issue. In the recognition discussions with Soviet Commissar Maxim Litvinoff, President Roosevelt promised governmental credits to help finance the development of American trade with the Soviet Union providing Moscow agreed to a settlement of the $700,000,000 American debt and damage claims. This government even offered to reduce these claims to around $200,000,000 and extend $100,000,000 worth of credits to finance trade development.

Russian Trickery

After Litvinoff had promised to negotiate a debt settlement on this basis, the Soviets, in the actual negotiations, suddenly demanded a loan of $100,000,000 in cash in addition to the $100,000,000 in credits. Litvinoff, back in Moscow, asserted the Soviet interpretation of credits meant a cash loan as well. Furious at what it considered a deliberate misinterpretation of the president's offer, the state department promptly broke off the debt negotiations.

On top of these disillusionments the Soviets' disavowal of its disclaim of responsibility for the anti-American activities of the Third International after having solemnly promised to prevent such activities,

Funeral of Mrs. Graham

A very impressive funeral service was conducted in memory of the late Mrs. Emma Graham from her home, 741 Chestnut street, on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with her pastor, Dr. John A. Galbraith, pastor of the Epworth Methodist Episcopal church, in charge.

Mrs. Avery Rigby and Mrs. John Wink sang two favorite selections of the deceased woman, "The Old Rugged Cross," and "The Last Mile of the Way."

The home was crowded with friends and relatives of Mrs. Graham, and there were many beautiful flowers, attesting to the high esteem in which she was held. Twenty-five members of a social club to which she was associated served as flower bearers.

Pallbearers were John Dannels, Grover Dannels, Robert Hanna, Philip Reese, Jessie Graham and Domer Dannels. Interment was made in Oak Park cemetery.

Funeral of Mrs. Carnes

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Esther A. Carnes were conducted from the home, North Wayne street, on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, in the presence of an assemblage of her friends and relatives. Rev. D. C. Schnebly, pastor of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, was in charge.

Pallbearers were A. E. Hillman, M. T. Stone, A. B. Root, C. M. Frost, H. S. Gillespie, and John Driggs.

Interment was made in Oak Park cemetery. The Ladies auxiliary to the Order of Railroad Conductors, of which Mrs. Carnes was a beloved member, conducted the service at the grave.

Alex Johnson Funeral

Final rites for Alex Johnson, of Volant, were conducted on Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock from the Cunningham funeral home, Leesburg, with Rev. W. A. Lloyd, Presbyterian minister of Leesburg, in charge, assisted by Rev. D. K. Kerr, pastor of the Volant Presbyterian church.

During the services the Cunningham quartet sang "Rock of Ages," and "Sometime We'll Understand." Pallbearers were M. A. Johnson, George Johnson, W. J. Allen, T. C. Devins, G. S. Dannels and John Dannels. Interment was made at Fair Oaks, New Wilmington.

Antonio Burrelli Funeral

Solemn high mass was celebrated in St. Vitus church on Saturday morning for the late Antonio Burrelli, of East Lutton street. Rev. Fr. N. De Rita, pastor of the church, was celebrant. Rev. Fr. Alfred Henke, assistant pastor, was deacon, and Seminarian Dante DeLila was sub-deacon.

Pallbearers were nephews of the deceased, Frank Palumbo, Peter Piacco, Andy Minzio, Luke Piscitelli, Nunzio Cucitroni and John Armino. Officers of the Columbus Society conducted the service at the grave in St. Vitus cemetery.

Frank P. Blair Funeral

Funeral services for Frank P. Blair, of Princeton, were conducted on Monday afternoon at the home. Rev. Paul J. Tau, pastor of the Bethlehem Lutheran church, was in charge.

FLOWER SHOW AT EAST BROOK TODAY

East Brook is a scene of activity today, especially this morning in the vicinity of the High school, where the flower show is being held today from 2 to 5 afternoon, until 9 tonight. Garden club members with gorgeous flowers from their garden were hurrying to and fro to complete arrangements, and this afternoon everything was in readiness when the doors were thrown open to the public.

Judges were Mrs. W. C. Meecham, Mrs. B. K. Thacker and Mrs. C. S. Royce and they had a difficult time placing the ribbons as competition was keen, entries being sent in from all parts of the county. Adding interest to the usual range of flowers was the display loaned by the Agricultural department which showed mounts of the Japanese beetle, corn borer and Dutch elm disease.

JAMESON MEMORIAL SEWING TO RESUME

LAWRENCE COUNTY GARDEN MEETING

Lawrence County Garden club is invited to the home of Mrs. C. A. Burkart, Glenmore boulevard, on Thursday at 1 o'clock for the September meeting.

After luncheon the women will view an exhibit of dahlias, gladioli and late perennials in charge of Mrs. S. E. Crawford. The following program is outlined: "Shrubs for Color in Winter Landscape," Mrs. M. Feuchtwanger; "Lilies Throughout the Season" with demonstration chart prepared by Mrs. Harry Wettich.

"Bulb arrangements in the garden for harmony of color" will be given in answer to roll call.

MOORE REUNION ON LABOR DAY

The James A. Moore family held their third annual reunion Labor Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Bailey at New Bedford. Thirty-seven sat down to a sumptuous dinner on the lawn at noon.

At the business meeting afterwards, President Harold Bailey of Warren, Pa., presided, and new officers were elected as follows: President, Harold M. Bailey; vice president, Rev. C. N. Moore, Zellenople; secretary-treasurer, Emma B. Moore of New Castle.

A greeting was read from Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bailey of Birmingham, Ala., and one from Mr. and Mrs. Arrel Bradley, the latter inviting the group to meet with them next year. Horseshoes and other games were enjoyed during an informal afternoon.

After the evening meal, the guests gathered about the piano and sang old time songs. Later, several serenaders arrived to greet Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd, who had just returned from their honeymoon.

In the assembly present were all the brothers and sisters in the connection, N. J. Moore of Sidney, O., being from the greatest distance. Among other guests were Dorothy Cowden and Lois Jean Gibson, both of whom contributed delightful readings.

GAY HOLIDAY CROWD AT THE FIELD CLUB

New Castle Field club was the scene of a gay holiday crowd Monday, in the neighborhood of 200 members with their friends and visitors from out of town driving out sometime during the day for either golf, bridge, dinner, or dance.

In the morning and afternoon several interesting golf matches were played, luncheon was served at noon and dinner again in the evening. Bridge tables were available for those desiring to be indoors.

At 9:30 the usual Labor Day dance was in progress with a large number of young and old continuing this popular pastime until after midnight.

On Friday of this week, the club will again focus attention of society folk, the customary dessert-bridge being for that afternoon, with Mrs. A. B. Street hostess.

Reunion At Apollo
Attending a reunion of the Mears family at Apollo, Pa., Saturday, were several local people in the connection among whom were J. T. Mears, of Butler avenue, aged 79, the only surviving real descendant, his son, J. R. Mearr and wife, their daughter, Mrs. Allan Morrow, and two grandchildren, Roy Charles Morrow and Phoebe Purcell.

There were about 40 present for dinner at noon, in the grove at Griffin park, the group later going to the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Shaner for an informal afternoon. The next reunion will take place the first Saturday in August, 1936, at Elders Ridge.

Have First Reunion.
Descendants of William and Margaret Stunkard held their first reunion on Saturday, August 31, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Stunkard in Hickory township.

A delicious picnic dinner was served on the lawn at noon. About 60 persons were in attendance, all belonging to the third, fourth and fifth generations. During the course of the day, a business meeting was held and the Rev. Charles Stunkard of Fredonia was elected president and Olive Miller of New Castle was named as secretary. The time and place of the second reunion will be announced at a later date.

Return To Harrisburg
Mrs. John Q. Stewart, of Harrisburg, who spent the summer here with her sister, Mrs. Edwin Crawford, of East Wallace avenue, returned yesterday to her home.

Her daughter and son, Mrs. Rebecca Stewart Call, and James H. Stewart, and the latter's little daughter, Mary Eloise Stewart, also returned to their home yesterday in Harrisburg, concluding a few days visit with their aunt, Mrs. Edwin Crawford, of Wallace avenue, and their uncle, J. Cam Liebendorfer, of Maitland Lane.

Handkerchief Shower
Mrs. Glen Carpenter, of 218 Edgewood avenue, entertained at a surprise handkerchief shower on Saturday afternoon in honor of Miss Betty Weinschenk, of 223 Edgewood avenue, who is entering the nurses training school of the New Castle hospital today.

The group of friends enjoyed a period of games. Delicious refreshments, prettily arranged, were served by the hostess.

A. G. P. Club

STROBEL-CROMIE WEDDING IN HOME

At a lovely wedding performed in her home at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, August 31, Edna M. Strobel was married to Thomas H. Cromie, Jr.

As the guests assembled in the living room, Roy Strobel, brother of the bride, played a medley of nuptial music, "O, Promise Me," "I Love You Truly," and "Sweet Mystery of Life." The bride appeared as the strains of the Lohengrin. Bridal chorus were heard for the single ring ceremony which was read by the Rev. C. W. Johnstone, pastor of the Central Christian church, against a background of summer flowers.

The bride was becomingly attired in a white satin gown, made ankle length, with a white lace jacket. She carried an arm bouquet of Johanna Hill roses. Ruth Strobel attended her sister as maid of honor, wearing a frock of orchid chiffon velvet, and a shoulder bouquet of pink roses. James Morgan, an intimate friend of the groom, served as best man.

After receiving congratulations, the bride and groom and 35 guests were served a wedding dinner by the bride's sisters. Later, they departed for a short wedding trip through eastern Canada, intending to visit the Toronto fair.

Mrs. Cromie is employed as head floor woman at the National Parks company, and Mr. Cromie is connected with the B. and O. R. R. company. Among the guests at the wedding were Mrs. John Wilson and son John of Cleveland, O.

Upon their return, the newlyweds will reside at 432 Galbraith avenue.

IMPRESSIVE WEDDING IN ST. LUCY CHURCH

One of the most impressive weddings of the season in the St. Lucy church, Mahoningtown, was solemnized on Monday morning, when Miss Inez Calvanese, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfonso Calvanese, of 109 South Lafayette street, became the bride of Carmen Piccaro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Piccaro, of 212 South Liberty street. The vows were exchanged before an assemblage of friends and relatives of the couple.

The Rev. Fr. S. Ippolito officiated. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Miss Calvanese was attractive in a white satin gown, made entrain, with a veil of real lace. She carried an armful of lilies of the valley, orchids and roses.

Miss Mary Calvanese, maid of honor, wore a beautiful coral gown and carried roses and baby breath. James Lombardo served as best man.

The bridesmaids included: Rose DeGennaro, Helen LaMarco, Inez Calvanese, Margaret Piccaro and the ushers were: Patsy Russo, Andy Tomello, Rocco Tomello and Nick Calvanese.

During the ceremony, Vito Colella, the bride's cousin, rendered a violin selection, "I Love You Truly."

Following the church ceremony, a wedding dinner was served in the bride's home. In the Columbus hall, last evening, the newlyweds were guests at a delightful reception attended by several hundred persons.

Late last night, Mr. and Mrs. Piccaro departed for an extended honeymoon in Utah, Colorado and other points of interest in the West. Upon returning, the newlyweds will reside at 109 South Lafayette street.

Stewart Reunion
The 23rd annual reunion of the Stewart family was held at Ewing Park on August 31. Dinner was served at one o'clock to a large number of relatives, all of whom had a delightful time visiting and renewing acquaintances.

LOVELY PARTY ON WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Russell McConnell were pleasantly surprised on a recent date when a host of friends and relatives gathered at their home on the Edinburg road, to help celebrate their 22nd wedding anniversary which occurred August 28.

Most of the evening was spent by the adults in dancing, music being furnished by Anthony McCree, Joseph Luca and Carl Romeo. Francis Cracraft called the square dances. The younger set passed the time by playing ring games on the large lawn.

At 12 o'clock, a delicious lunch was served to about 90 guests by Mrs. Gertrude List, daughter of the honored guests, assisted by Amy Smith, Claire Lutz, Ollie McConnell and Myrtle McConnell. Afterward, Mr. and Mrs. McConnell were showered with many beautiful and useful gifts.

The oldest persons present was F. E. McConnell, father of Mr. McConnell, who is 79, and the youngest was Richard List, aged 4 years, the only grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. Russell McConnell. Before departing, the guests expressed many good wishes to the honored guests for continued good health and happiness.

President Irked By Communists

Recent Remarks Made At Moscow Conference Anger Chief Executive SITUATION IS ANNOYING ONE

Central Press
Washington Bureau
1900 S Street
By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Sophisticated and perhaps cynical Washington officialdom takes the New Deal administration's annoyance over remarks made at the recent international gathering of Communists in Moscow, with its fingers crossed.

That is to say, it's the consensus that denunciation of the American form of government, by orators at the Comintern convention, wouldn't in the least have perturbed the White House.

It's guessed that the executive mansion was angered, instead, by the qualified friendliness which some of the communistic speakers expressed toward it.

An IRRITATING ADDRESS
Earl Browder made the most irritating of these addresses—irritating because it was insufficiently hostile to the Roosevelt regime.

In effect, what Browder said was that there is a strong Fascist movement in the United States; that President Roosevelt, while no Communist, is nearer to communism than are the Fascists; therefore that American Communists will do well to support "F. D.", as better than the Fascists anyway, until they can make a bit more progress toward communizing the country—if ever.

The president, it is assumed, realized promptly what kind of capital his opponents are sure to make of this statement at the next election—that the Communists are supporting him.

A quarrel with Moscow tends to counteract this prospective development.

It is in the nature of a back-fire.

AN ILLOGICAL SITUATION
The situation, to be sure, is illogical.

The American government, having been overly well referred to at a Communist "gafest", is placed in the position of complaining that the Communists are trying to undermine it.

The circumstances that the Communists who wrought the mischief are Americans doesn't clarify the matter.

If foreign "reds" had been trying to "horn in" in America it would have been different—but these "reds" were Americans, telling their home story to their foreign brethren.

Here in the U. S. they can't be muzzled. Yet the U. S. demands that they be muzzled in Russia.

Arbitrary Russia can muzzle them, but it is with a poor grace that the U. S. asks it—particularly as to the utterances of American citizens, who, abroad, discuss their home conditions, as they see them.

RELATIONS DISAPPOINTING
To be candid, re-established Russo-American diplomatic and trade relationships have been a disappointment to the United States.

Americans had an idea that the renewed friendship with the Muscovites would be followed by repayment of debts outstanding against the czarist and Kerensky governments; also that Russian buying would start in on a large scale.

Russia simply has not the funds to pay, or to buy extensively.

The commerce department (and no doubt the whole administration) now knows this fully.

It was hoped, in short, that Russia would be valuable to the New Deal.

It has proved to be the contrary. Ambassador "Bill" Bullitt a few months ago was the liaison officer between the two countries. Now he's on the job to break the relationship.

English Don't Want
War, Banker Says

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Dr. A. H. Giennini, California banker, on his arrival in New York from a European vacation, declared that the "everyday Englishman" is opposed bitterly to entering the war over the Ethiopian situation.

"In England," he said, "so far as I could ascertain, the sentiment is not to interfere in the Ethiopian matter. The general tendency is to scrap the League of Nations. Let the belligerents do their own fighting and stick to our own knitting."

"Camels don't get your Wind"

FAMOUS SWIMMERS AGREE

Champion swimmers speak with authority when they discuss sound wind—healthy nerves—and Camels. Buster Crabbe, champion in the 400-meter free-style Olympic event, says: "I have smoked Camels for years. If you go in for sports at all, I'd advise Camels. You'll find, as I did, that Camels are so mild they never get your wind or cut your endurance."

What Buster Crabbe says is confirmed by Helene Madison; by Jane Fauntz, the Chicago girl who rose to Olympic fame; and by Stubby Kruger and Josephine McKim. So turn to Camels. Enjoy those costlier tobaccos in Camel's matchless blend. Smoke all you wish. Athletes say, "Camels don't disturb your nerves or wind."

COSTLIER TOBACCOS!

On Court House Hill

Welfare Director M. B. Hogue reports that about 300 persons have been taken off the county relief rolls as a result of securing old age pensions. When the pensions of $30 a month are secured, the recipient automatically goes off the relief rolls. There are at present between 500 and 600 families on the county relief rolls. The county takes care of only those who are unable to work. Of late a number of new families have been shifted from the Emergency relief to the county relief. The state reports in that a certain number has been taken off the relief rolls. This is misleading since they are only transferred from one relief department to another.

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard has been given a number of scire facias writs to serve on residents of Wampum Avenue, Ellwood City, who have failed to pay their share of improving the street. Those who receive the writs will be given fifteen days in which to file an answer. If no answer is filed, judgments will be taken and proceedings to collect will be instituted.

Preliminary action to collect on the bond of Paul D'Anna, who was arrested in connection with the "numbers" cases has been taken by the county. D'Anna failed to show up when his case was called in court, and his bond was declared forfeited. A rule was issued on his bondsman, Mike Teirno, to show cause why the amount of the bond should not be paid by him. The rule is returnable on the second Monday of September. There were several bonds taken in "numbers" cases, which were afterwards found to be worthless.

Registering Clerk Thomas Edmunds believes that it will be necessary to have about eight voting booths in the first precinct of the fifth ward, and in the first of the eighth wards at the coming primary. He explained that while there are some large precincts in Ellwood City and other places throughout the county, it will not take so long to vote, as it will in the City of New Castle, under the new law. The election boards here will have to find the voters registration card when he applies to vote, and have him sign his name on another card to see if the signature correspond. This will take time, and will delay the voting. Under the old system all the voters' names were on one card, and that was necessary to find the voter's name on the registry list and hand him a ballot. The lists of registration cards will be arranged so that a voter's name may be found with the least possible delay, but it will take time for him to sign his name.

There are now 54 blind persons in Lawrence county receiving pensions. Under a new law which was passed by the recent legislature, the list is likely to be increased, as the eligibility field is broadened to include aliens. The department of welfare is now completing plans for changes in procedure in administering the system. Instructions regarding the changed procedure will be received by the Mothers Assistance board, which administers the pensions, at an early date. Concerning the requirements for eligibility under the new law, every blind person is entitled to receive a pension, who has attained the age of 21 and upwards who has three-sixtieths, or ten two-hundredths or less normal vision, who has resided in the state for at least five years, during the nine immediately preceding the application for a pension, and has resided therein continuously for one year preceding application, and who is not at the date of making application an inmate or prisoner in any prison, jail, insane asylum or other public reform or corrective institutions. The law stipulates that no person shall be denied a pension because he or she is not a citizen of the United States. The maximum payment under the new law remains at $30, as in the original measure. There are some exceptions. A blind person with an annual income of $1200 or over is not entitled to receive a pension. A blind person having real estate property with an assessed valuation of $5,000 is not entitled to a pension. In cases where a blind person has an income of less than $1200 per year, the pension will be fixed in such amount that the combined income and pension will not exceed $1200. Persons eligible to or receiving pensions under the existing law, without further qualification, become eligible under the new act.

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard is of the opinion that motorists should be careful taking in hitch-hikers. While there is no direct evidence that the late Frank L. Blumquist was murdered by hitch-hikers, there is scarcely a week goes by when the press does not tell of some motorist who has been beaten and robbed by persons whom he was giving a "lift."

Daily on the roads leading out of New Castle, hitch-hikers are thumbing motorists. Where the "thumber" is known to the motorist, or can show that he belongs in the county, it may be alright to take him in, but the great majority of "thumbers" are entire strangers here. They are persons who are hitch-hiking across the country, or from one town to another, not caring where they go so they are on the move. It is this class of hitch-hikers who are a menace. There may be good worthy people among them, but on the other hand, there may be the worst criminals. The motorist has no means of telling whether the "thumber" merely wants a ride, or wants to rob him. Where two "thumbers" are found together it's safest to pass them up.

In this connection a well known New Castle attorney tells of an experience he had while coming from Cleveland, O. He was flagged by two "thumbers" and took them in. They both got in the back seat of his car. After a little while he heard them arguing. Then they grew angry, and finally one of them asked the attorney to stop his car. He did so. Then one of the men told the other to get out, and he complied. The man who remained in the car then got into the front seat with the attorney. "Do you know what we were having trouble about?" the man asked. The attorney replied that he did not. "Well," said the man, "that fellow wanted me to join with him in knocking you off, robbing you and taking the car, and I refused." The man said that he had never seen the man whom he had put out of the car, until a short time before the attorney came along in his car.

Holiday Crashes Take 194 Lives

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—Labor Day week-end, customary blight on the nation's record for motoring safety, exacted its toll of lives lost and limbs broken, with fatalities mounting to 194 tonight and over 200 injured.

Rains and other factors which kept potential motorists indoors tended to keep the loss under the "350 to 400" death estimated for the week-end by headquarters of the National Safety Council.

By states the deaths were: California, 36; Missouri, 16; Ohio, 15; Illinois, 15; New York, 12; West Virginia, 10; Iowa, 9; Pennsylvania and Utah, five each.

Youth Is Stricken
On His Vacation

NEW GALILEE, Pa., Sept. 3.—Funeral services for Keith Flower, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Flower of New Galilee, will be held Wednesday afternoon in Darlington. He was a member of the United Presbyterian church. He had returned from California for a vacation when stricken with pneumonia.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 72 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. September 2, seven arrests on charges as follows: Drunkenness 4, drunkenness and fighting 1, and suspicion 1.

Monday was the last big day of the year at Cascade park. Labor Day having been the end of the picnic season. However, this does not mean that there will be no more gatherings there. Chris Coulthard, manager of the park, stated today that with corn roasts in vogue the park will be kept open until September 15, at least.

Up until the time this column was written no serious automobile accidents in the city had been reported to city police. Generally the motorists, according to observation, were employing caution yesterday. There were half a dozen slight accidents on August 31, but none of the occupants of automobiles were injured, according to police.

Vacation period for city police has practically ended and as soon as possible, indications are that Chief of Police John F. Haven will work out a system whereby the policemen will be given one day off each week as called for by act of assembly passed by the last legislature. He said some weeks ago he proposed to obey the law when the vacation periods ended.

MAKES ALL CARS
RUN SMOOTHER

THE whole town's talking about New Pennzip, the sensational new gasoline introduced to local motorists by The Pennzip Company as the Perfect Partner of Pennzip Motor Oil. And no wonder! Here's why:

New Pennzip Gasoline, motorists report, makes cars run smoother and faster—with real high-compression motor performance. And that isn't all... New Pennzip Gasoline also gives your car new-car power and pep... starts your motor like a flash... and cuts down corrosion and valve-and-ring trouble. No wonder motorists by the thousands are switching to New Pennzip Gasoline. And no wonder they're getting better results, in better motor performance than ever before!

Try a fresh tankful of New Pennzip Gasoline! In spite of its new-type features, New Pennzip costs not a penny more. So get it at any station displaying the Pennzip sign.

Alleged Member Of Kidnap Gang Is Taken By "G" Men

Woman Companion Of William Weaver Also Captured At Florida Chicken Farm

(International News Service) ST. PAUL, Sept. 3.—William Weaver, 38, charged with being one of the eight members of the Barker-Karpis gang who participated in the actual abduction of Edward G. Bremer, wealthy St. Paul banker, and his sweetheart, Myrtle Eaton, 32, were under heavy guard in the Ramsey county jail today, where they will await arraignment.

They were captured by department of justice agents at a chicken ranch two miles south of Allendale, Fla., Sunday, and rushed here by plane.

Accompanying them when they landed here yesterday were five department of justice agents headed by special agent E. J. Connelley, and a woman operative and a baby boy.

Adopted Boy
The two-year-old boy was adopted by the Eaton woman four months ago, Connelley said, evidently in an attempt to give the couple a cloak of respectability that would help hide their identity.

The couple had been living on the chicken ranch for several months, Connelley said. He refused to reveal how the hide-out was located. He said the couple were taken by surprise about 11 o'clock Sunday morning and had no chance to offer resistance.

Bremer, popular young banker and heir to brewery millions, was kidnaped January 17, 1934, and held for $200,000 ransom. He was held for 21 days in a house at Bensenville, Ill.

singers from 24 different districts of North America who competed at the Equestrienne in Cleveland. The president and secretary of the local male chorus are John Untch and George Wolfe, respectively and of the women's chorus, Mrs. Katherine Bender and Mrs. Anna Wester, respectively.

The male chorus was composed of about 45 and the women's chorus of about 43. They were accompanied to the Saengerbund by a crowd of more than 100 people. Following presentation of cups to each of the local choruses and the presentation of the chief trophy, in the form of a flag, he local singers and friends staged a parade as a victorious demonstration.

The Ellwood Clay, Erster, S. S. Maenchor of Ellwood City, took third place in the folk song group for men's choruses.

Young Republicans Oppose Revision Of Constitution

Suggest Amendments Be Made
To Present State Constitution

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 3.—John Y. Willis, state chairman of the young Republicans, today came out openly against constitutional revision and advocated an "orderly, well-planned revision by amendment" which he said could be accomplished by 1938.

Instead of "reckless rewriting of the entire basic law by irresponsible political puppets," Willis advocated: "The practical method of revising Pennsylvania's fundamental law is to plan now for amendments which can be approved by the 1936 special session and the 1937 regular session, to be voted upon by the people in 1938. By that plan the commonwealth can retain most of the present constitution and can revise only those sections which ought to be made more flexible."

G. W. Henson, 64, is being held in the county jail on a murder warrant, nine other men, alleged strike sympathizers, are being held "for investigation", and police announced they were "seeking others".

Two of the wounded, J. P. McDougal and Paul Holcombe, are in a critical condition.

Young Mother Killed.

The rioting broke out at the No. 3 plant of the Pelzer Manufacturing company when workers attempted to break through picket lines.

According to witnesses, the picketers hurled bricks and beset the workers with clubs. Then the gunfire began.

Ed Jeanes, a special deputy employed at the company's No. 4 plant, said that strikers there opened fire on employees without warning or provocation.

Mrs. Bertha Kelly, 21-year-old mother of two children, was killed in front of the main plant, the No. 3 unit, when a bullet struck her in the throat.

Mother—Now, Henry, look at your dirty hands. And it was only half an hour ago that you washed them.

Henry—Yes, mother, I can't understand it but your washing stays on ever so much longer than mine does.

Outdoor Feast At Hillsville Is Huge Success

Close To 1,500 Enjoy Annual St. Lucy Day Program, On Monday

JOSEPH MACRI IS GENERAL CHAIRMAN

From nearby cities approximately 1,500 persons gathered at Hillsville on Monday for the annual outdoor celebration of St. Lucy's Day, sponsored by the St. Lucy society. The event was easily one of the most successful held yet by the organization.

The program started early Monday morning, with impressive services in the St. Lawrence church, the Rev. Fr. Pirulli officiating. The parade, at 10:30 o'clock, in which close to 200 persons marched, including the popular Lowellville band, members of the St. Lucy society, St. Lucy auxiliary and many others, was one of the most impressive sights witnessed in Hillsville for some time.

On the Hillsville grounds, a large crowd watched a baseball contest between the Hillsville and Bessemer sandlotters in the afternoon. After nine innings of exciting baseball, the Bessemer team walked off the field with a 5-4 victory.

Athletic Program.
Featuring the afternoon program was an interesting athletic program, presented on the community playground. The greased pole climbing contest was one of the highlights. The following were awarded prizes for climbing the slippery post: Alfonso Bernard, Christmas Arena; Sam Bernard and John Millio, Sack race, won by Sam Sheldone and Joseph Loccasiano; bicycle race, won by Joseph Dallena; men's race, 100-yard dash, Thomas Augustine, first; Constable John Shingledecker, second; ladies' race, won by Clara Pezzullo; girls' race, under 12, Josephine Carna.

Band Concert.
The well known Lowellville band presented a splendid program of high class musical selections during the evening hours. The large crowd displayed its approval by the loud ovation accorded the musical organization. An original baby doll dance, created and presented by Frank Jack, a Lowellville resident, pleased the throng immensely.

Hillsville's annual celebration came to a climax with an unusual fireworks display late last night. The following committee was in charge of the fine program: Chairman, Joseph Macri; Dominick Perry, treasurer; Louis Gregg, John Capozzuto, Fred Macri, Tony Luscri, Frank Sfar, Nick Schidello, Andy Sackin, George Warren, Joseph Genaro and Frank Annachine. The sports committee, Louis Gregg, Joseph Macri and Tony Luscri.

Will Speed Up Report On Canal

Major Edward M. Markham, Will Make Report On Lake Erie and Ohio Canal.

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Major General Edward M. Markham, chief of the army engineers, has advised members of Congress that he will speed up the report on a canal connecting Lake Erie and the Ohio river.

A provision of the rivers and harbors law, approved by President Roosevelt, gives blanket authorization for the canal, but provides that no work shall be started until the rivers and harbors board of the army engineers approves it.

After the House had voted authorization for improvement of the Beaver-Mahoning rivers, at a cost of $37,000,000, as a part of the canal, the Senate changed it to the conditional authorization.

Army engineers have been engaged in a survey of a feasible Lake Erie-Ohio river canal to benefit industrial regions of Ohio and Pennsylvania since 1922.

MORGAN LINER DIXIE
POUNDED ON REEF
50 MILES FROM MIAMI

cane proportions, the Dixie crashed upon the reefs without warning, and shortly after midnight its first faint call for help was picked up here by the coast guard station.

"Have 250 passengers and crew of 140 aboard," was the message Capt. E. W. Sundstrom sent out through the howling winds. "Being pounded heavily but not taking much water at present. Seas and wind very heavy."

Center Of Storm

New York, Sept. 3.—An advisory report by the New York weather bureau at 9:30 a. m. today placed the center of the fierce storm whipping the Florida coast as being 50 miles west of Everglades City. The storm, reaching hurricane force as far north as Punta Gorda, Fla., according to the report.

Storm warnings are also displayed northeast to Miami, it was said, with northwest storm warning posted at Key West.

Hurricane warnings are given to all points from Everglades City north to Punta Gorda, with the hurricane predicted to turn northeast along the Florida coast from Titusville to Carrabelle.

A later bulletin at 10:30 a. m. included storm warnings from Apalachicola, Fla., all the way to Mobile, Ala., and from Fort Eads, Fla., to Burwood, Louisiana.

Heads For Louisiana

New Orleans, Sept. 3.—Sweeping beyond southwest Florida, the tropical hurricane which today sent the steamship Dixie aground at Carysfort reef, today was headed in the direction of Louisiana and Alabama, the weather bureau here reported at 9:30.

Reaches Side of Ship

Boston, Sept. 3.—The United Fruit steamship Limon is "alongside steamship Dixie now," according to a radiogram received at the central offices of the company here this afternoon.

Officials believed the radiogram indicated their ship was the first to reach the hurricane-tossed Dixie, stranded on Carysfort reef, 50 miles south of Miami, Fla., with 200 passengers and a crew of 140 aboard.

Hurricane Strikes

Miami, Fla., Sept. 3.—Slashing northeast out of the Caribbean, one of the worst hurricanes since the disastrous blast of 1928 smote Florida and the Southeast today, disrupting communications and wreaking havoc on intercoastal shipping.

The storm early this morning centered between Key West and the Everglades, slowing somewhat and edging northwestward, according to weather bureau advice.

This latest disturbance, brewed in the devil's cauldron of the Bahamas, has roved erratically over the gulf coast for the past two days. Striking first at Long Cay, in the Bahamas, it veered toward Havana, then shot westward, then again changed its course and swung on the Florida coast.

Heavy rain accompanied the tempestuous wind, flattening the tropical vegetation and drumming a fearful tattoo on the roofs and walls of buildings in this semi-tropical region.

Fear for Train

Pears were felt in southern Florida for a train bearing 500 World War veterans from Upper Key to rehabilitation camps in on the mainland.

No reports of the train's progress were received after it left the Upper Key station and dispatchers here were frantically seeking to determine whether it had safely ridden out the storm.

Telephone and telegraph communications from Florida point to New Orleans, Atlanta and other southern cities were erratic and uncertain. Communication with New York and other northern points was, for a time early in the day, suspended, as were efforts to reach coastal points south of here.

Moving Northwest

Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 3.—The tropical storm which swept the Florida coast during the night, early today was apparently centered about 40 miles west of the town of Everglades and was moving in a northwesterly direction along a course parallel to the coast, it was announced here by the U. S. weather bureau station.

Little Damage at Key West

Key West, Fla., Sept. 3.—No lives were lost and only minor property damage resulted from the tropical storm which swept this island city during the night, it was learned in a survey of the island early this morning.

Although winds of hurricane force had been reported in the city, it was announced officially this morning that the highest record here was 45 miles an hour.

Several small vessels were sunk, but it was reported they can be easily salvaged when the seas subside.

Key West was cut off from the mainland for several hours when telephone and telegraph wires in the upper keys were disrupted by the wind.

Early this morning all telegraph messages were being relayed by cable to Havana, Cuba, and from there by cable to New York.

400 On Steamer

Miami, Fla., Sept. 3.—Huddled in the wet dank of a grey morning, 400 souls aboard the Morgan liner Dixie today prayed for deliverance as the vessel shattered itself on the treacherous shoals off Carysfort reef, about fifty miles south of here.

Smashed and battered by the worst hurricane that had struck the Florida coast since the disastrous storm of 1928 the Dixie went aground on the reef early today on its run north from New Orleans.

Tempestuous wind and weather thrust the Dixie, flagship of the Morgan line and its newest craft, an oil burner of 4,918 tons, on the Florida shoals without warning.

Wind and weather, for a time, swept from the safe world ashore word of her plight. Radio communication was sketchy. Ashore, telephone and telegraph lines failed under the blast of smashing gales sweeping up from the Caribbean.

Then, faint and stuttering, the wireless key stammered out word of her distress.

Call For Aid

The coast guard station here picked up the first faint call for aid.

Shortly after midnight the master of the Dixie, Capt. G. E. Sundstrom, veteran of the southern run and experienced in many a tropical storm, flashed out word of his liner's precarious condition.

"Have 250 passengers and crew of 140 aboard," his message read. "Being pounded heavily but not taking much water at present. Seas and wind very heavy."

The coast guard and other Caribbean liners, plowing the mountainous seas, swung into instantaneous action.

From Key West, nearly one hundred miles to the southwest, coast guard cutters, unmindful of sea perils, poked their noses into the storm, stacks blazing as the engine room gangs put forced draft on their rescue craft.

Steamers Start For Scene

The steamer Rapier, some fifty miles south-south-west, turned and headed for the distressed liner. The Watertown, a Cities Service Corporation tanker, ninety miles away, also pulled off her course and plowed into the smashing sea in an effort to reach the Dixie before the sharp-toothed reef claimed her.

Focus, while there was only an agonized silence.

Then, shortly after 4:30 a. m. (EDT) came another message from the stricken steamer.

"We are pounding heavily and taking much water," it clipped in the terse chatter of the wireless. "Sea and wind heavy. We have 400 aboard and need immediate assistance."

The signal was extremely weak. Shore stations that picked it up through the howl of the tropical gale deduced that the Dixie was sending on its emergency apparatus, probably linked with its radio direction finder.

Indications were that the steamer's regular equipment had been cabled by the storm, smashing its way up the Florida coast from the Caribbean Bays.

Steamers plowing to the aid of the distressed liner held out little hopes of active assistance.

Coast guard stations along the Florida coast this morning kept their wireless open for further word from the Dixie. But all they heard was the howl and smash of the wind, ripping at the barren south-east Florida coast.

The smashing sea held its own secrets.

Ashore, townsmen prepared for recurrence of the disastrous 1928 storm. Windows and doors were boarded and strengthened as householders prepared to resist the wind and the rain.

Shore communications were almost as sketchy as those of the sea. Telephone lines between New Orleans and Florida points were interrupted and, in many cases, out of order. Southeastern Alabama was cut off from points along the Gulf of Mexico and the north.

Efforts to send aid to the Dixie by air were futile. Coast guard stations along the coast reported flying conditions "impossible" and points farther north were warned that no plane could live in the tempestuous weather.

C. A. CROWL CO.
MAYTAG-1900 WASHERS
NEW CASTLE, PA.

August 26, 1935.

TO ALL EMPLOYEES:

We are combining with a group of firms of New Castle in a Service Advertising campaign to stimulate business. A Service Book will be issued in the immediate future including services from nineteen different firms:

We honor one coupon without charge for, 1 Service Call (Washington Machine or Vacuum Cleaner).

This method of advertising will bring us in contact with many prospective customers whom we would not meet in any other way. It will also give you an opportunity of demonstrating the thoroughness of our work.

You will give these book-owners the same prompt and courteous attention that you would if they were paying cash. When possible, we would like you to sell other service, but we do not want you to create the impression that they are obligated to buy because of the coupon. Keep in mind that GOOD WILL MEANS FUTURE BUSINESS.

The success of this service advertising depends entirely on your reception of the public—Greet them with a smile and send them away with a "thank you."

Yours very truly,
C. A. CROWL COMPANY,

MILLION LINE STREETS AT QUEEN'S FUNERAL

Queen Astrid Buried Today

Final Tribute Is Paid To Belgian Queen Killed In Auto Crash

MANY NOTABLES ATTEND SERVICES

(International News Service)
BRUSSELS, Sept. 3.—While 1,000,000 mourners lined the streets, kept in check by soldiers with fixed bayonets, Queen Astrid's funeral procession began today to an accompaniment of 33 cannon shots.

The shots boomed as the coffin of the beloved queen, killed in an automobile accident in Switzerland, was carried from Laeken palace on the shoulders of army sergeants and placed on a hearse for the procession to the Cathedral of Saint Gudule, where the funeral service was to be held.

King's Arm In Sling.
The hearse was preceded by others filled with flowers and wreaths. King Leopold, in the uniform of a general, followed the body of the queen afoot. His right arm was in a sling to keep his fractured rib in place. His face pale, he stared at the coffin as he walked, appearing to notice the crowds on the streets.

Detachments of infantry and cavalry headed the procession, followed by the massed flags of the War Veterans' association and then the hearse, which was used for the funeral of Queen Marie Theres.

Premier Van Zeeland, president of the Senate Lippens, president of the Chamber Poncellet, the minister of justice, the minister of the interior and two generals held the cords of the hearse.

Princes and Princesses In Line.
They were followed by 14 princes and nine princesses, including the Duke of York, Gustave Adolph, Queen Astrid's father, Charles Olof of Norway, Axel of Denmark and Napoleon, pretender to the French imperial throne.

Women members of the Belgian royal family, including the queen mother, Elizabeth, did not follow the procession, but went directly to the church.

As the mahogany coffin, with a silver plate reading, "Her Majesty Astrid, Queen of the Belgians, 1905-1935," was carried into the coffin, King Leopold wiped a tear from his eyes with his white glove.

The majority of the congregation was weeping.

When the religious service ended, the coffin was carried from the cathedral and, followed by King Leopold, started on the procession to Laeken palace, where it will be laid in a crypt near the coffin of the late King Albert, who was killed 18 months ago while mountain climbing.

Radio listeners heard members of royalty sobbing as the priest chanted the Latin dirge in the cathedral.

Today
Four Kinds Of Gold.
All Doing Well.
A Great Mother Tree.
Ethiopia Makes Presents.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 1.—They have four kinds of gold in California, all doing well. There is yellow metallic gold, still to be found in a thousand places in this state. The new price, thirty-five dollars an ounce, has stimulated prospecting and mining, and production increases, every month.

BEN S. SMITH, who flies over the country like a daring needle over a pond and who knows about gold, explains that prospecting is mad, easy and comfortable even in the boiling hot Death Valley where "when a coyote chases a jackrabbit in summer, both walk."

INSTEAD of a slow moving donkey, the prospector, with a second-hand closed car, buys a little "dry ice," leaves one window of the car open a few inches for ventilation and travels the desert in his own air conditioned way.

The days when men took hundreds of millions from the small plots of ground have not passed forever. Many a big "vein" of gold and many a rich "lode" await the discoverers.

THE OTHER CROP of "yellow gold" from California's orange trees.

Get Rid Of Piles
New 2-Way Treatment Gets Results

FIRST: Get right down to the cause. Stop the retching strain resulting from clogged bowels. Loosen and regulate them with safe, thorough-acting GOLDEN-LAX TABLETS. GOLDEN-LAX TABLETS are a strengthening, tonic laxative. They will not irritate the raw, pile-tortured membranes.

SECOND: Cool and soothe the stinging, itching, sore areas. Cover them with antiseptic SAN-CURA OINTMENT. SAN-CURA kills pile pain instantly and allows firm, natural healing to set in at once. Stop suffering today. GOLDEN-LAX TABLETS 25c, SAN-CURA OINTMENT 35c, at Eckerd's and all drug stores.

and her great lemon and grapefruit groves, is greater this year than ever. And growers wisely give "twenty-five per cent more oranges for the same amount of money" all over the country.

Citrus growers in Florida, Texas, Arizona and other states should study the organization method of California growers. They have steadily increased sales in the depression, and will ship this summer thirty-three thousand carloads of oranges; more than one hundred thousand carloads in the year. This is made possible by intelligence, organization, co-operation and CO-OPERATIVE ADVERTISING.

YOU MAY SEE at Riverside an orange tree, now sixty years old, still bearing abundantly, that is the mother of California's rich orange industry. An orange tree in Brazil, in the last century, produced one branch on which there grew oranges without seeds, a "sport" growers called it, now known as the navel orange.

Two tiny orange trees a few inches tall, grown from clippings taken from that tree in Brazil, were sent to a woman at Riverside, California. She put them in little holes in her front yard, and water being scarce watered them with dish water from her kitchen.

Both thrive until the late Theodore Roosevelt, with the best intentions, had one of them transplanted. It died, the other still lives, and is the proud mother of all the seedless oranges in California. And all the health giving vitamins with which they supply children and adults.

"THE BLACK GOLD" spouts from thousands of oil wells and beneath the California soil in great lakes of petroleum are stored untold billions of barrels of the precious oil.

THE "WHITE GOLD" which is the water from the mountains supplies fertility and power, is now abundant for all times, thanks to the great Hetch-Hetchy development in the North, and the Boulder dam California may now increase as it will do, to a population of thirty millions and more, and Los Angeles may grow to its normal size of five million population with plenty of water to grow on.

SIGNING HIS NAME "Anointed King of Kings" and sealing a document written in English and in Amharic, with the great imperial seal of the Conquering Lion of Judah, the Emperor of Ethiopia presents to a British corporation and American Standard Oil interests the right to develop and exploit one-half of his kingdom during the next seventy-five years.

He had already given to England important concessions in connection with the waters of the Blue Nile, with which Britain wants to irrigate cotton and other fields. Hence perhaps some of Britain's tender solicitude for Ethiopia's welfare.

THE ETHIOPIAN emperor making this generous gift to England and America presumably hopes that England and America will not allow Mussolini to take from their citizens what the Ethiopians' king has given them.

In any case it will probably be a satisfaction for Ethiopia to dispose of her most valuable concessions before the Italians move in.

It is not the oil, gold and other underground wealth in Ethiopia that Mussolini wants, primarily, but the fertile soil, and room for Italy's excess population.

Italian settlers in Abyssinia will produce more wealth from the surface of the soil than Standard Oil and the British corporation will dig from the earth's depths.

INTENSELY INTERESTING news, although not important commercially, tells of a German at Frankfurt, flying for the first time in the world's history "under his own power."

CATAPULTED into the air on his "airbicycle" Herr Duenn-Bell pedaled almost one thousand feet through the air faster than thirty miles an hour.

Virgil imagined it in his sixth book of the Aeneid "Daedalus ut fama est, fugiens minota regna, etc." Daedalus, in Virgil's imagination flew to safety from the island of Crete, while his son Icarus tried it, rose too close to the sun which melted the wax in his wings causing the first "fatal aviation crash" in history.

Virgil imagined it, and now flying is commonplace transportation. "What men can imagine they can do" and they can imagine a great deal, even now only 12,000 years from the late Stone Age. What will they imagine and DO, 1,000,000 and 10,000,000 years hence?

MR. CAPONE, buried in a gloomy stone cell in the Alcatraz prison on a little island near the Golden Gate, receives a message from Uncle Sam requesting $120,000 income tax on profits that Capone made as a beer runner in Chicago.

This must impress Capone, condemned to silence and solitude as the height of something or other. What words would you use to describe it?

A CARDINAL GOES BY
Yesterday I chanced to see
A cardinal upon a tree
In all his regal finery.

In scarlet dress I saw him pass
Through sunlit aisles of leafy glass
As though about to chant the mass.

He had a most impressive air
As if he knew while standing there
The church's robes were his to wear.

I think he knew and made it clear
It was his business to appear
As God's small feathered vicar here.

There is joy in having done a good job. Observe the dog's satisfaction after he has scratched his ear successfully.

Father Facing Trial For Murder Of 19 Years Ago

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., Sept. 3.—The last chapter of a drama which rivalled an old-fashioned thriller was to be enacted today in the Westmoreland county criminal court here where "Johnny" Barnes, 67, of New Kensington, accused of the murder of his daughter, Mrs. Florence Mae Barnes Bishop, more than 19 years ago, was scheduled to go on trial for his life.

According to eye-witnesses, Barnes killed his daughter in 1916 following an argument with his wife, Mrs. Margaret Barnes, in which the daughter intervened.

Witnesses said that when the daughter begged Barnes to leave the house, he fired point blank at her, killing her instantly.

Barnes disappeared. An old coat found near the Allegheny river was believed to have been his, and for almost two decades the alleged slayer was regarded as "dead."

Barnes drifted to Buffalo, he said, where he became a success in a big concern. However, his conscience bothered him beyond control, he admitted, and soon returned to New Kensington, broken, gray and no longer his former self.

When finally discovered by police Barnes made no effort to conceal his identity and confessed the killing, authorities said.

Mrs. Barnes, the intended victim, will take the stand in her husband's defense, having forgiven him a long time ago.

Will Confer On City Projects
Councilmen And Engineer Go To Harrisburg To Discuss Local Program

City Councilman Joseph D. Alexander and B. F. Butler, accompanied by City Engineer Glen R. Throop departed for Harrisburg today to confer with WPA officials relative to relief projects here.

Several days ago councilmen met with representative citizens at which time the relief projects plight here was outlined and it was decided to send a committee to Harrisburg for a conference.

The city officials claim that the percentage permitted for equipment and materials is so small that the city will not be able to put through projects unless some change is made by WPA officials.

War Veterans Reported Safe

Train Bearing 500 War Veterans To Miami Halted By Washout Of Rails

(International News Service)

MIAMI FLA., Sept. 3.—Some 500 war veterans, whose whereabouts had been unknown since last night, when they left their rehabilitation camps in the upper Florida keys to escape the tropical storm in that section, today were reported safe.

They had started by rail for Miami and Homestead, but never arrived, and fears for their safety spread throughout this section.

However, messages received here stated their train had been halted by a washout. As soon as the track can be repaired the train will proceed here, according to word reaching this city.

This Is Last Day For Registration
Clerk Of Board, Thomas Edmunds, Will Keep Office Open Until Midnight

Thomas Edmunds, clerk of the registration board, was kept fairly busy today, registering voters who had failed to get registered on any of the three registration days. This is the last day on which registrations can be made. Edmunds will keep the office open until midnight, in order to give everybody a chance.

Some voters who had lost their naturalization papers came this morning to see if something could not be done about it. They were told the only way that they could get new papers was by going to the

Two Local Men Escape Injuries In Crash Monday

Two New Castle men narrowly escaped injuries Monday morning, about 7:30 o'clock, when two automobiles crashed along the New Castle-Youngstown highway, about five miles from the city.

Mike Piskorz, aged 25, of Harwick, Pa., Box 75, Allegheny county, and Elmer Fry, aged 19, of Harwick, Pa., Box 75, Allegheny county, are in the New Castle hospital, suffering with injuries about the legs and back, the result of the accident.

The car in which Piskorz and Fry were riding, crashed with the auto driven by L. C. Mather, of 307 Highland avenue, headed towards New Castle, Edward Bleakley, of Lincoln avenue, accompanied Mr. Mather. The front of the vehicles were badly damaged.

New Castle Man Hurt At Mercer

Has Foot Crushed When Struck By Machine Driven By Erie Man

TRAFFIC HEAVY BEFORE LABOR DAY

MERCER, Sept. 3.—Joseph Biega, aged 35, of Moravia street, New Castle, is in the Mercer hospital, suffering from a crushed foot and bruises to his left leg, sustained when he was struck by an automobile driven by Carl Habeger, aged 27, Erie newspaperman.

Biega, it was said, was bending over his car, making repairs, at a filling station in Mercer, Saturday evening, when Habeger, driving out of the filling station, was forced to cut close to Biega's car by an oncoming machine on the highway.

Habeger was arrested by Mercer authorities and held under bail of $1,000 on charges of reckless driving and aggravated assault and battery.

Mercer authorities state that traffic on Sunday, prior to Labor day, witnessed the heaviest motor traffic over the Perry highway since that road was constructed. Motor traffic moved over the highway at a rate of close to 2,000 cars per hour.

Local Residents See Sky Ride Fall

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Sontum and son Edward of State street have returned from Chicago, where they spent the past week visiting the former's sister, Mrs. George R. Allen and family.

While there, they saw the ruins of the great Chicago World's Fair and witnessed the razing of the huge tower of the sky ride, weighing thousands of pounds, which crashed in ruins when its base was eaten away by powerful chemicals.

They were also visitors at Notre Dame college, South Bend, Ind., on Saturday morning, when four young couples were united in marriage. It is a tradition among Notre Dame graduates to return there for their marriage if possible, as many as six marriages having been performed in one day.

News Briefs From City Hall

Boys and girls last night let the air out of automobile tires in South Mill street, according to a report made to police.

Someone has been stealing milk from the porch of 103 Atlantic avenue, according to word sent to police this morning.

No serious automobile accidents inside the city of New Castle were reported on Labor Day.

No parking signs which were placed in East Washington street near Cascade park were returned to the police department today.

Traffic police went to the north side of the public square near the P. & L. E. bus station last night and unravelled a traffic jam.

REPORT TWO MINOR AUTO ACCIDENTS HERE

Michael Schmeltzer of Rittiman, O., reported to police at 11:40 a. m. yesterday that his car had been struck by a truck driven by Joseph A. Babiarz, 106 Oakland avenue, Union township. The accident occurred in Market alley.

H. A. Cunningham, Apollo, Pa., told police at 7:30 last night that his truck had been struck by an auto driven by Ralph Dart, 302 Boyles avenue. The accident occurred in Arlington avenue.

Concentration Of Ethiopian Forces For Defense Of Frontiers Begins

(International News Service)
ADDIS ABABA, Sept. 3.—Concentration of Ethiopian forces for defense of their frontiers moved forward today as 800 trained and well-equipped troops left the Akaki station 20 miles from here enroute to Dire Dawa.

There, it was stated, they will be joined by 1,500 irregulars who have been waiting for the past three days at various points along the railroads, unsheltered from storms and tropical sun.

Upon arrival at Dire Dawa, the force will join 3,000 other troops and then move toward Ogaden. Commanding the troops in Dedjazmat (General) Hapte Micael, of Licabas, chief of the imperial guard for the past three years, who was recently promoted to his new position as Dedjazmat and named governor of Juro in southwestern Ethiopia.

He visited Emperor Haile Selassie here yesterday, and the Negus presented with him with a magnificent sword which was given to the Abyssinian ruler by the Duke of Gloucester as a coronation gift.

The emperor, in handing the sword to one who knows how to use and honor it in the age-old manner of Ethiopia, said:

"I am sure I am entrusting this sword to one who knows how to use and honor it in the age-old manner of Ethiopia."

Micael, dressed as an Abyssinian warrior with a lion's mane over his head and with tears in his eyes, fell to his knees and thanked the emperor for the honor, promising to die for honor, sword and country.

GRANT CITY

HOME COMING DAY

The seventh annual home coming day of the teachers and pupils of Grant City school was held in the grove at Hunt's Barbecue on the Ferry Highway, on Saturday August 24. The crowd began to arrive early, and soon after the ladies unpacked the baskets which were filled with all the good eats one might wish for. After all had seated themselves around the long tables, they sang, "Praise God From Whom all Blessing Flow," before partaking of the noon-day feast.

The afternoon was spent in renewing old acquaintances and recalling old school day happenings. Mrs. Margaret Hunt Studebaker was the oldest pupil present. Mrs. Caroline Moore Hunt was the oldest teacher having taught Grant City school sixty five years ago. Other teachers present were: Mrs. Nettie Moore Kildoo, George Young, Chester Hunt, Mrs. Nannie Cameron Hunt, Mrs. Marian Cleland Welby and Miss Lillian Patterson.

Pupils and friends were present from New Castle, New Brighton, Catasauqua, Hadley, Sheakleyville, Pittsburgh, Zelienople, Harmony, Ellwood City, Slippery Rock, Volant, Grove City, Rose Point, McCaslin, Prospect and Portersville in Pennsylvania; Cameron, Philippi and Beckley in West Virginia, Salem and Youngstown in Ohio and Tulsa, Oklahoma.

During the business meeting several communications were read from those unable to be present. Chester Hunt was chosen president and Belle Brant secretary for the coming year. It was decided to hold the next annual meeting on the fourth Saturday of August in 1936 at the same place.

The emperor, in handing the sword to one who knows how to use and honor it in the age-old manner of Ethiopia, said:

"I am sure I am entrusting this sword to one who knows how to use and honor it in the age-old manner of Ethiopia."

Micael, dressed as an Abyssinian warrior with a lion's mane over his head and with tears in his eyes, fell to his knees and thanked the emperor for the honor, promising to die for honor, sword and country.

Palmer Trial May Be Delayed

Murder Case May Not Be Taken Up Next Week In Mercer Court

(Special To The News)
GROVE CITY, Sept. 3.—That the trial of LeRoy Palmer, 28, Grove City, on the charge of murder will not be heard at the September sessions opening September 8, is the report arriving here from Mercer today.

Palmer, of Grove City, is held for the murder of Howard Sidley, 26-year-old filling station proprietor of Findley township. He was arrested at his Center street home here the evening of March 16 following the discovery of Sidley in a pool of blood in the rear of his store at 5:30 p. m.

Palmer was given a hearing here before Squire O. E. Irwin, who held him for the September court. It is reported that the postponement will be asked on the strength of the prayer of a petition setting forth that not enough time had been provided to properly prepare a defense. District Attorney J. W. Nelson will not object to the continuance of the case, it is made known today at his office.

The hearing has already stimulated more interest in the community than any court trial in local history.

ELECTRICITY IS YOURS TODAY

SO IS - 2 1/2 c AND 1 1/2 c CURRENT!

CHEAP ELECTRICITY is yours to enjoy—to bring you a new enjoyment of home comforts long desired. Gone are the days of high electric rates when only the privileged few could enjoy refrigeration and electric cooking. . . . The new low rates start at 5/2c and 5c and quickly drop to new low levels that makes it more than ever economical to use electric servants. . . . 3 1/4c, 2 1/2c, 1 1/2c—these are the lower steps—AND THAT MEANS THAT YOUR HOME CAN ENJOY THE SERVICES OF BOTH ELECTRIC COOKING AND ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION—two ideal home servants.

Cooking...

Where is the housewife, proud of home and cooking skill, who does not look forward to an automatic electric range—and all it means in kitchen freedom, new recipe adventures, savings in time, work and money? All yours are they now—longer, easier purchase plans and cheap electricity invite you to enjoy these advantages without another week of waiting.

Refrigeration...

Of course, these are days of automatic electric refrigeration. Splendid as it was before—now new models, at more attractive prices, and with current cheaper than ever make it one of your most profitable investments. The nice thing is—its savings and economies make it pay for itself over and over. Thousands know it—may we show you how to profit, too?

And

ARE YOU GETTING YOUR SHARE OF FREE ELECTRICITY???

It's very simple to get your share—for all you have to do is USE IT. If you haven't received your "base card" which shows how much Free Electricity you are entitled to each month—call us about it. If you do not fully understand the workings of this free electricity idea—call us and we'll gladly give you more details.

Editor News:
The W. C. T. U., in convention assembled voted to express to you our appreciation of the publicity you gave our work this past year. We also commend you for your stand on liquor advertising. We know that from one viewpoint you are losing but how many of those who waste their money in drink are subscribers to your paper? One version of Ps. 119:36,37 i. seems to me expresses your stand, "Oh! do thou turn away mine eyes from viewing vanity. My heart unto thy precepts turn and not to worldly gain."

Actor Dies Before
Unaware Audience

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 3.—Death stole a scene in the second act of Lenore Ulric's new play, "Portuguese Gal", last night at the Broad street theater.

Frank Allworth, 38, who was portraying "Steve", a policeman, fell dead 13 minutes after the curtain had risen on the act.

The audience was unaware of the tragedy as the curtain fell. They thought it was just a part of the show and applauded.

Miss Ulric and Allworth were supposed to be drinking rum. "Steve" gulped his drink and went into a dance. Suddenly he stumbled and slumped to the floor.

Miss Ulric motioned frantically for the curtain to be dropped. Scene shifters speedily obeyed.

DAVIS TO SUGGEST COAL HEADQUARTERS

(International News Service)
GREENSBURG, Pa., Sept. 3.—Pointing out that this city was the logical center for administering the new Guffey coal control act, U. S. Senator, James J. Davis announced today that he will personally ask President Roosevelt to make Pittsburgh the headquarters for the large administrative forces.

Even if the attempts to make Pittsburgh the control center fail, Senator Davis said, there were many reasons to believe that one of the regional headquarters will be established here.

Four Injured As Car Goes Over Bank

One In Hospital As Result Of Accident On Frisco Hill Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 3.—One is in the Ellwood City hospital and three other New Brighton people were injured when the car in which they were riding went over a 20-foot bank and crashed onto the highway on Frisco hill.

The injured are Miss Ann Trek, lacerations on the face, arms and body. She also is suffering from bruises, abrasions and shock.

John Martin Daneck of New England Hill, New Brighton R. D. 2, the driver, has a dangerous laceration on his forehead, just between the eyes and one above the left eye.

Miss Ann Vokch, laceration on the temple and bruises and abrasions about the arms and legs.

Steve Vondick, laceration on the temple and bruises about the body. The accident occurred about 11:45 last night. The car was traveling south on Rosanna street here in the direction of New Brighton and the blind end of the street, which ended in a precipice about 20 feet above the main highway. Daneck stated that he was unaware of this condition. Just as he applied his foot and emergency brake the car lurched down the precipice, overturning.

It skidded across the highway and crashed into a bank. The car was wrecked beyond repair. Fortunately there had been no other car coming up the hill at the time.

Passing motorists and nearby residents attracted to the scene by the crash extricated the four people from the wreckage. Miss Trek was underneath the car. She was riding in the front seat with the driver.

Mrs. Margaret Weyant of Fombell R. D. 1 reported that her car was struck by a hit and run driver about 11:40 last night. She was traveling south on Second street, route 388, in the direction of Fombell. When she had reached the intersection of Summit avenue a car came down the steep incline of Summit avenue at a high rate of speed and struck the right front part of her car, damaging the fender and bumper. The driver failed to stop after the accident.

Molnar-Nagy Wedding Monday

Ceremony Takes Place At Presbyterian Church In Beaver Falls Before Many Friends

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 3.—Monday afternoon at 2:30 Miss Betty Molnar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Molnar of Ellport and Rev. Andrew Nagy, Jr., of Beaver Falls son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Nagy, Sr. of Cratte, N. J. were united in marriage in the Presbyterian church of Beaver Falls in the presence of a very large assemblage of relatives and friends.

The bride was beautiful in a gorgeous white satin gown fashioned with bodice and leg-o-mutton sleeves of fine lace and a slight train. Her veil of tulle and lace was caught by a turban adorned with a bandeau of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of calla lilies and lilies of the valley.

Miss Anna Paltaka, this city, maid of honor wore a gown of beige satin and the first bridesmaid, Miss Julia Bakty, Ellport, wore blue satin. Other bridesmaids who wore rainbow shades and carried arm clusters of roses, were: Misses Ella Sepack, Ann Tackas, Emma Geyerd, Vera Bese, Margaret Kosogy, Ann Moses, Helen Bares, Helen Paltaka, Hilda and Helen Pozz; Julia Szani, Saran Pozz, Ann Miskolci and Elizabeth Sugar. Margaret Miskolci and Mary Luca were flower girls.

Alex Stefon of Beaver Falls was the best man. Ushers were: Joe Molnar, Dan Moses, William Miskolci, John Kilian, Frank Mike, Louis Pozz, John Egid, Joe Sepack, Ben Bares, Andrew Sugar, Steve Tackas, Tony Choff, Dan Pozz, John Borah and Nick Sabo.

At 5:30 a wedding dinner was served about two hundred and fifty guests at the Magyar Presbyterian church of Ellport by the ladies of the congregation. A beautiful color scheme of pink and white was carried out in all the appointments with a large tiered wedding cake centering the bride's table.

Later in the evening the group enjoyed a dance at the Hungarian Hall in this city. Rev. and Mrs. Nagy left by motor on a trip to Cratte and Atlantic City, N. J. The former attended a Presbyterian theological seminar in that state and is the present pastor of the Ellport Magyar church.

Since the betrothal was made known they have received a very large collection of beautiful and useful gifts for use in their new home.

Reunion Of No. 4 Enjoyable Affair

Over 300 Attend Big Event At Perry Township On Monday All Day

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 3.—No. 4 Perry Township school reunion was held at Pleasant Hill Grange hall September 2, with 352 former teachers and pupils present. George W. Nagel, general chairman presided over the meeting. He was a former pupil and also teacher.

There were 14 former teachers present who took part in the program. Mr. Nagel gave the opening address which was appreciated. W. V. Smith, former pupil and teacher gave an interesting talk on the history of the school. The remarkable part of Mr. Smith's address was the naming of all his former teachers of his common school days in respective order. Hon. R. A. Nagel, representative of Beaver County, who was a former pupil of the school gave an interesting talk in which he gave No. 4 School credit for much of the success he attained in later life.

At this time of the meeting letters received from former pupils from California and Oregon were read. Mrs. George W. Ketterer and Chas. McCartney also gave talks.

At this time a business meeting was held and it was decided to make this an annual affair, with all former officers re-elected. The rest of the day was spent socially and visiting.

The committee and members wish to thank the Pleasant Hill Grange for the donation of the grounds and services rendered them during the day. Members of the grange served delicious refreshments during the day.

Emlenton Wins Over Merchants Saturday
ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 3.—Allowing only three hints during the games duration Hines pitched the Emlenton aggregation to a 5-1 count over the Ellwood Merchants at Emlenton Saturday.

The Merchants' lone tally came in the ninth when Friedhoff slammed a homer in to save the local team from a shut-out. The game was tight with Huston Gunnert yielding but five hits to the opposing nine. Gunnert was the losing pitcher.

Lutz shared batting honors with Friedhoff of Ellwood. The former smacked out two triples.

Dr. Bennett In Charge Of Last Service

Final Union Sunday Evening Worship Service Conducted In Church

The final union meeting under the auspices of the New Castle Ministerial association was held on Sunday evening in the First Christian church with the president of the association Dr. G. S. Bennett in charge.

The attendance was very gratifying as has been the attendance at all the services, the others having been held at Cascade Park. Music for the service was furnished by the brass quartet, and by the church quartet, composed of Mrs. Thelma Schenk, Miss Rebecca Garvin, Sam Lewis and James Bowman, with Mary Virginia Patterson at the organ and Mrs. Fred S. Emery playing the violin obligato of the anthems. The music by the church quartet added much to the service.

The service opened with an organ meditation by Mary Virginia Patterson, during the organ program three numbers were given: "The Bells of Aberdovey"—Stewart "Offertory in G Minor"—Giumant "On the Holy Mount"—Dvorak. Then a number by the brass quartet and a trombone solo, with Alfred Sadler at the piano. This quartet has furnished music at the union services throughout the summer. Hymn by the congregation—"Abide With Me"—Dr. C. K. McGeorge, pastor Second U. P. church. Hymn by the congregation—"The Church's One Foundation."

Scripture—John 6, 60 to 71; Rev. A. M. Stump, St. Paul's Lutheran. Anthem, "The Day Is Ended"—By the quartet, solo by Miss Garvin.

Prayer—Dr. C. B. Winger, pastor of Central Presbyterian church. Announcements—Rev. R. B. Withers, chairman of the Park committee. He stated that this was the last of this series of services sponsored by the association, and thanked the ministers with their choirs and ushers who have co-operated during the summer to make possible these services.

Antem: "My Faith Looks Up to Thee" by the quartet. Dr. Bennett was the preacher and chose as his theme: "Our Greatest Need" using for his text John 6:68, "Lord to whom shall we go, thou hast the words of eternal life." He said, "Our greatest need is not more money, nor a new government, nor more organizations, nor a new science, nor a new religion, nor new churches, although we do need a new spirit in our religion. Our greatest need is more of the spirit of Jesus Christ in our international relations, in our own political leaders, in our church and our own religious experience."

Hymn by the congregation, "I Need Thee Every Hour." Solo by Mrs. Thelma Schenk—"I Need Jesus." Benediction—Dr. N. A. White, pastor First M. E. church. Postlude: "Our Father Who Art In Heaven"—Mary Virginia Patterson.

Funeral Today For Mrs. Ickes

Husband Awaits Body Of Accident Victim At Home Near Chicago

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes came home from Washington today to await the body of his wife Anna Wilmarth Ickes, killed in a motor accident at Santa Fe, N. M.

The body was due in time for a 2 p. m. funeral at the Ickes home in Hubbard Woods, Winnetka. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt is to come to New York for the funeral and Harry L. Hopkins, Federal relief administrator, was expected from Washington. Governor Henry Horner and other state dignitaries also will honor Mrs. Ickes.

Ickes, accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Hampton, of Washington, for many years a family friend, and William H. McCrillis went in a downpour of rain to the University Club and later motored to Hubbard Woods. He was met at the train by his son Wilmarth, and his daughter, Mrs. W. Re Quia Bryant, of Evanston, who had completed funeral arrangements.

Burial will be private at Grace-land cemetery, Chicago. The Rev. E. Ashley Gerhard, of Christ Episcopal church, Winnetka, will officiate at the brief services in the Ickes home.

A dance orchestra may bring temporary relief to a rheumatic sufferer, but it can't effect a permanent cure.

Oil In Ethiopia Declares Broker

Young American Broker Declares There's Lots Of Oil In Country

SCOFF'S AT RICKETT'S REPORTED OIL DEAL

By PAUL ALLERUP
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—"There is oil in Ethiopia! Lots and lots of it—and lots of gold and platinum, too!"

Leo Y. Chertok, young American broker, who claimed today to have "international backing" in his efforts to raise a million-dollar loan for Emperor Haile Selassie's empire in return for which he is said to have been granted a 50-year concession on the country's mineral resources, ridiculed reports of "no oil in Abyssinia."

"Of course Standard Oil would deny the existence of any oil there. Why wouldn't they?"

"They have everything to gain and nothing to lose by taking that stand. If he [Rickett] has Standard Oil signed up to anything—then I have, too, and I haven't even spoken to them about it."

"Who is this fellow Rickett, anyhow? I have never heard of him, never seen him, and don't know anything about him," Chertok declared.
